WIFA Presents $34 Million Check to Queen Creek for Water Reclamation Plant Completion

PHOENIX – Water Infrastructure Finance Authority of Arizona (WIFA) Executive Director Jay Spector presented a $34 million check to the Queen Creek Mayor and town council for the second phase of a water reclamation project.

The low-interest WIFA loan helps Queen Creek bring the second phase of the Greenfield Water Reclamation Plant (GWRP) project to fruition.

“Queen Creek’s project is a significant community investment that involves the partnership of several East Valley communities,” said Spector. “WIFA encourages communities to think regionally and utilize WIFA funds in making such investments in their communities.”

The GWRP expansion includes establishing liquid treatment and solids treatment processes that increases the plant’s daily treatment capacity.

The improvements also include building effluent lines that will deliver the A+ reclaimed water to customers, recharge facilities and project partners who include the City of Mesa, Town of Gilbert and the Town of Queen Creek.
